I can't wait for the Christmas season to stert becuz I know that it is a time of sharing and caring. Allmost evary Christmas my hole family gathers together and tries to help oothers that are less fortunate. We decide on a speshial pursen thats had a difficult time this past year. It doesn't mattar what has happened, it's just the idea of spreading the love of Christmas around.

After we have decided on the person, its important that we decide on a special gift for them. Amung all of the ideas, we decided that something from our heart would be the best. We wait untell there is a time for us to bring the boxe of gifts to them. I know that they will probable like them and appreciate the kindness, but I don't care. I do it to see the look on the face of the children.

Christmas Eve finally comes and we go to deliver our gift to them. A little girl standes and holdes there door open. She cannot believe that their is a gift for her. She opens it and finds the kitten meowing and licking it's paws. The kitten has already found a home with the little girl and they love each other forever.
